Copy 1 of 6Page 1 of 2

Dear George:

Enclosed are revised spare lists YA, YB, YC, YF, and Y covering FAK and depot spares for the A, B, C, and F racks of the 3-channel data-reduction equipment. The lists furnished you in our letter of 17 January 1957, CMCC Doc. No. 151X5.382 were preliminary and did not include MP numbers. We have made a careful revision of these lists and modified them to correct nomenclature and part deletions. We have also adjusted quantities and added and deleted items to reflect our latest thinking in regard to spares requirements.

The variation in dollar costs between Revision A and the original list is relatively small despite the considerable number of changes made. The changes in cost per list and for the total of all lists as funded are tabulated in Exhibit A for both project and FOG. There is a net decrease in cost for the project requirements of $2,021.90 and for the FOG requirements of $726.98. This will result in a decreased cost for the fixed fee figure at 8.25% of $166.81 and $59.98, respectively for the two programs. The new total estimated cost, including fixed fee for the two programs, is $70,359.36 and $86,078.26, respectively.

We have proceeded with caution in the procurement of these spares and have not procured anything not covered in the lists as now revised. If we are to furnish fly-away kits with equipment racks as delivered, it will be necessary to proceed immediately with the procurement of spares in accordance with this program. Since you have authorized procurement of data-reduction spares in accordance with the original list in Amendment 10 to the contract, we assume you will want us to proceed with procurement of the revised list immediately. Unless we hear to the contrary from you, we will place orders for the requirements as set forth in Amendment 10 in accordance with the revised lists.
